We Want You!

The Florida Economic Development Council is a membership-based not-for-profit (501c6) corporation whose members engage business and government leaders in key economic development initiatives that improve local communities and elevate Florida's global competitiveness. Since 1964, FEDC has invested in the professional development of its members, advocacy for sound economic development programs and policy, and recognition of excellence among economic, workforce and community development individuals and organizations.

Your support as a Sustaining Investor is needed to bolster FEDC's strong support of 500+ professionals who count on FEDC to Educate, Advocate, and Connect every day.

Educate. Advocate. Connect.

FEDC aligns stakeholders around a common language and best practices in economic development. Members can customize their toolkit and influence changes in Florida's economic development policy and programs.

FEDC advances Florida's competitiveness by developing and promoting sound economic development programs and policy.

Join a statewide network of public and private economic development stakeholders and influence best practices, resources, and more!

Why You Should Invest

As a Sustaining member of FEDC, your company will connect with Florida's top leaders in business & industry, education & workforce training, and local and state government. You will positively influence the creation and promotion of competitive economic development policy and programs. You will have the opportunity to educate and inform local, regional and state leaders on innovative services and tools available to support their strategic endeavors.
